

PHOTO BY DYNAMIC ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTIONS

↑ The Crohn's & Colitis Foundation

Cocktails for the Cause, White Plains

The Ritz-Carlton, Westchester, was the site of The Crohn's & Colitis Foundation's Cocktails for the Cause benefit on February 28, which raised a nearly record-breaking $460,000. In addition to cocktails, guests enjoyed a seated dinner of comfort food, live music and dancing, and an auction. Above: Diane Freedman, Lindsay Anfang, and Reva Stuckelman; right: Rhondell Domilici and Noah Heller, who received the foundation's Ochs Volunteer Award.

PHOTO COURTESY OF MARCH OF DIMES

↑ March of Dimes Commemorative Coin First Pressing, West Point, NY

Guests gathered at the US Mint at West Point to celebrate the first pressing of a commemorative coin honoring White Plains-based March of Dimes for its achievements in combatting polio. In attendance were March of Dimes President Jennifer L. Howse; Dr. Peter Salk, son of Dr. Jonas Salk who developed the polio vaccine; and Treasurer of the United States Rosie Rios.

Share your event photos by submitting to eventphotos@westchestermagazine.com.

PHOTO BY LYNDISAY BOUCHAL/CO-COMMUNICATIONS

↑ Boys & Girls Club of Northern Westchester

Humanitarian Award Dinner, Mount Kisco

The Northern Westchester chapter of the Boys & Girls Club held its annual Humanitarian Award Dinner at Mount Kisco's Cafe of Love on February 24. The evening's honoree, Boys & Girls Club Executive Director Brian Skanes (above, right) posed with Mount Kisco Mayor J. Michael Cindrick and Leslie Lampert.

PHOTO BY DAN STOCKFIELD

↑ Neuberger Museum of Art

NeuYC Launch Party, New York City

Andrew Huff, Katherine Bleich, and Sarah Rosenzweig were among the attendees at the Ryan Lee Gallery in Chelsea for the launch of the Young Collectors at the Neuberger Museum of Art on March 5, which brought together art enthusiasts and collectors under 40.

PHOTO BY DONNA TINE

↑ Ty Louis Campbell Foundation

Share the Love Fundraiser, Greenwich, CT

Partygoers raised $55,000 to benefit childhood cancer research during the Share the Love fundraiser at the Hyatt Regency Greenwich on March 14. The festivities included cocktails, dinner, dancing, and casino table games. Above: Jennifer Logan Winters and her husband, actor Scott Winters, with the foundation's co-founders, Cindy and Lou Campbell.